Development configuration files

Severity	Medium
Reported by module	/Scripts/PerFolder/Development_Files.script

Description

One or more configuration files (e.g. Vagrantfile, Gemfile, Rakefile, ...) were found. These files may expose sensitive information that could help a malicious user to prepare more advanced attacks. It's recommended to remove or restrict access to this type of files from production systems.

Impact

These files may disclose sensitive information. This information can be used to launch further attacks.

Recommendation

Remove or restrict access to all configuration files accessible from internet.

HTTP Strict Transport Security (HSTS) Policy Not Enabled

Severity	Medium

Description

HTTP Strict Transport Security (HSTS) tells a browser that a web site is only accessible using HTTPS. It was detected that your web application doesn't implement HTTP Strict Transport Security (HSTS) as the Strict Transport Security header is missing from the response.

Impact

HSTS can be used to prevent and/or mitigate some types of man-in-the-middle (MitM) attacks

Recommendation

It's recommended to implement HTTP Strict Transport Security (HSTS) into your web application. Consult web references for more information

SSL Certificate Is About To Expire

Severity	Medium
Reported by module	/Scripts/PerServer/SSL_Audit.script

Description

One of the TLS/SSL certificates used by your server is about to expire.

Once the certificate has expired, most web browsers will present end-users with a security warning, asking them to manually confirm the authenticity of your certificate chain. Software or automated systems may silently refuse to connect to the server.

This alert is not necessarily caused by the server (leaf) certificate, but may have been triggered by an intermediate certificate. Please refer to the certificate serial number in the alert details to identify the affected certificate.

Impact

If an application server detects an expired certificate with a system it is communicating with, the application server may continue processing data as if nothing happened, or the connection may be abruptly terminated.

Recommendation

Contact your Certificate Authority to renew the SSL certificate.

Affected items

Web Server

Details

The TLS/SSL certificate (serial: 06fa5d1abe8665d31061537a2a39dd38b2b7) will expire in less than 60 days. The certificate validity period is from Sat Mar 14 2026 12:11:24 GMT+0400 (Arabian Standard Time) to Fri Jun 12 2026 12:11:23 GMT+0400 (Arabian Standard Time) (43 days left)

WordPress XML-RPC authentication brute force

Severity	Medium
Reported by module	/Scripts/WebApps/wordpress_5.script

Description

WordPress provides an XML-RPC interface via the `xmlrpc.php` script. XML-RPC is remote procedure calling using HTTP as the transport and XML as the encoding. An attacker can abuse this interface to brute force authentication credentials using API calls such as `wp.getUsersBlogs`.

Impact

An attacker can brute force the authentication credentials for your WordPress blog.

Recommendation

It is possible to disable the XML-RPC script if you do not want to use it. Consult references for a WordPress plugin that does that. If you don't want to disable XML-RPC you can monitor for XML-RPC authentication failures with a Web Application Firewall like ModSecurity.

✓ Clickjacking: CSP frame-ancestors missing

Severity	Low
Reported by module	/httpdata/CSP_not_implemented.js

Description

Clickjacking (User Interface redress attack, UI redress attack, UI redressing) is a malicious technique of tricking a Web user into clicking on something different from what the user perceives they are clicking on, thus potentially revealing confidential information or taking control of their computer while clicking on seemingly innocuous web pages.

The server didn't return a frame-ancestors directive in the Content-Security-Policy header which means that this website could be at risk of a clickjacking attack. The frame-ancestors directives can be used to indicate whether or not a browser should be allowed to render a page inside a frame. Sites can use this to avoid clickjacking attacks, by ensuring that their content is not embedded into other sites.

Impact

The impact depends on the affected web application.

Recommendation

Configure your web server to include a CSP header with frame-ancestors directive and an X-Frame-Options header. Consult Web references for more information about the possible values for this header.

Clickjacking: X-Frame-Options header

Severity	Low
Reported by module	/httpdata/X_Frame_Options_not_implemented.js

Description

Clickjacking (User Interface redress attack, UI redress attack, UI redressing) is a malicious technique of tricking a Web user into clicking on something different from what the user perceives they are clicking on, thus potentially revealing confidential information or taking control of their computer while clicking on seemingly innocuous web pages.

The server did not return an X-Frame-Options header with the value DENY or SAMEORIGIN, which means that this website could be at risk of a clickjacking attack. The X-Frame-Options HTTP response header can be used to indicate whether or not a browser should be allowed to render a page inside a frame or iframe. Sites can use this to avoid clickjacking attacks, by ensuring that their content is not embedded into untrusted sites.

Impact

The impact depends on the affected web application.

Recommendation

Configure your web server to include an X-Frame-Options header and a CSP header with frame-ancestors directive. Consult Web references for more information about the possible values for this header.

✓ Cookies Not Marked as HttpOnly

Severity	Low
Reported by module	/RPA/Cookie_Without_HttpOnly.js

Description

One or more cookies don't have the HttpOnly flag set. When a cookie is set with the HttpOnly flag, it instructs the browser that the cookie can only be accessed by the server and not by client-side scripts. This is an important security protection for session cookies.

Impact

Cookies can be accessed by client-side scripts.

Recommendation

If possible, you should set the HttpOnly flag for these cookies.

✓ Cookies with missing, inconsistent or contradictory properties

Severity	Low
Reported by module	/RPA/Cookie_Validator.js

Description

At least one of the following cookies properties causes the cookie to be invalid or incompatible with either a different property of the same cookie, of with the environment the cookie is being used in. Although this is not a vulnerability in itself, it will likely lead to unexpected behavior by the application, which in turn may cause secondary security issues.

---

Cookies will not be stored, or submitted, by web browsers.

Recommendation

---

Ensure that the cookies configuration complies with the applicable standards.

✖ Insecure Frame (External)

Severity	Low
Reported by module	/httpdata/iframe_sandbox.js

Description

The web page was found to be using an Inline Frame ("iframe") to embed a resource, such as a different web page. The Inline Frame is either configured insecurely, or not as securely as expected. This vulnerability alert is based on the origin of the embedded resource and the iframe's sandbox attribute, which can be used to apply security restrictions as well as exceptions to these restrictions.

Impact

When a web page uses an insecurely configured iframe to embed another web page, the latter may manipulate the former, and trick its visitors into performing unwanted actions.

Recommendation

Review the iframe's purpose and environment, and use the sandbox attribute to secure the iframe while applying sandbox directives to ease security restrictions if necessary.

WordPress admin accessible without HTTP authentication

Severity	Low

Description

It's recommended to restrict access to the WordPress administration dashboard using HTTP authentication. Password protecting your WordPress admin dashboard through a layer of HTTP authentication is an effective measure to thwart attackers attempting to guess user's passwords. Additionally, if attackers manage to steal a user's password, they will need to get past HTTP authentication in order to gain access to WordPress login form.

Impact

No impact is associated with this vulnerability.

Recommendation

Add server-side password protection (such as BasicAuth) to the /wp-admin/ directory. Consult web references for more information.

Wordpress REST API User Enumeration

Severity	Low
Reported by module	/Scripts/WebApps/wordpress_21.script

Description

WordPress includes a REST API that can be used to list the information about the registered users on a WordPress installation. The REST API exposed user data for all users who had authored a post of a public post type. WordPress 4.7.1 limits this to only post types which have specified that they should be shown within the REST API.

Impact

An unauthenticated attacker can gain access to the list of users on a WordPress installation. This can be exploited by bots that are launching brute-force password guessing attacks on WordPress websites.

Recommendation

Install a WordPress plugin such as Stop User Enumeration. Stop User Enumeration is a security plugin designed to detect and prevent hackers scanning your site for user names.

Generic Email Address Disclosure

Severity	Informational
Reported by module	/httpdata/text_search.js

Description

One or more email addresses have been found on this website. The majority of spam comes from email addresses harvested off the internet. The spam-bots (also known as email harvesters and email extractors) are programs that scour the internet looking for email addresses on any website they come across. Spambot programs look for strings like myname@mydomain.com and then record any addresses found.

Impact

Email addresses posted on Web sites may attract spam.
